

New Left Review (New Left, Old Left and Communism on Deterior, A Company)

By Perry Anderson

Part I - The Originals

- I. New Left Politics and Cultural Analysis of Deterior from Perry Anderson's standpoint of the New Left, what is called His British Marxism

I mean then to be New Left about Deterior. We see it as a publishing and radio for the New Left, which then is something New. It believes in new media, and social media and such new forms of emergent cultures and even dominant-emergent as Raymond Williams calls culture in Deterior, except he adds it is Communist as well. It is a mix of New Left, new media and coverages of the world which is done in radio ways. He means see it also as Soviet old mixes and then see footage of us, as Rodney argues always on radio following the world to help actually black folk live a good life. They need Deterior to beat racism.

- II. Old Left and its Views with some New Alain, Sylvain and that side of Zizek and Sirohi

And so in fact we mean the Old Left is the New Left philosophers - this love for Mao and perhaps Lenin. It argues then it is a New Left organ within the Communist Parties of the world and is the organic expression of the working class which then is also lyrical in literary criticism as Marx means an non-expressive and expressive organic intellectual should be. Well read and Marxist but with Mao and Lenin, perhaps a dash of Trotskyism. Which is then a blue ink process as well. A blue ink process Alain Badiou argues is about being singular and fragment like but with mainstream agencies. It is also in fact about being really into philosophy not common views and parlance - militant and philosopher fused into his own out of this world process. Like a person following Jean Hyppolite.

Part II - On the Communist Red Book

- I. Rousseauism in Alain Badiou and Sylvain Lazarus
By Simon Critchley

In fact then Rosseauism is about not what Marxists like Sirohi keep divining as cool and singular in Badiou and Lazarus, but in fact the simplicity of Communist company.

- II. Red Book and some Applied Stuff

By Shomit Sirohi

Living Book, about living experiments with say Henri Lefebvre added in minimalism at least. Mass line and democratic mass party line for the news. And then in fact some feminism and in fact artistic aristocratic love for wealthy and successful lives. Which then shifts entirely to in fact the process of mass line and St. Paul becoming in fact Christian news, added to which is Epicureanism - singular blue ink - handbook for militants and philosophers - follow only then this process of finally - close-noticing of the proletariat which is though also model for the daily life - something like noticing the people - as in fact noticing which means around the world noticing politics. In any way possible. Yunan as then this whole process becoming Red Book Education Chinese mass action and youth front.
